

Dear Thom,

Can we call you Thom? What a lovely name that is.

Hope you don't mind the informality, but it feels like we've got loads in common, so we just had to get in touch.

We love what you've done with the new album, the way you've turned the industry upside down by going it alone. Who needs a record label anyway?

At amazingtunes.com we're doing the same for unsigned acts. We're liberating music, reinventing the music industry to make it fair. Power to the people and all that.

Bands upload their music to our site. Everyone else can hear the next big thing before they're famous, listening for free before they buy. Best of all, 70% of any sales go direct to the artist.

Think of it like Fair Trade, but with songs instead of coffee.

That's it in a nutshell really. Amazingtunes.com. Have a listen - it's free.

So is uploading your stuff, Thom. Next time, you know where to come.

All the best,

amazingtunes.com
